Office Action Summary	Application No. 10/625,252	Applicant(s) ANDERSON ET AL.
	Examiner JASON DUNHAM	Art Unit 3625

-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on January 10, 2008 has been entered. Applicant amended claims 1, 7, and 13. Claims 1, 3, 5-7, 9-13, and 15-23 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1,3,5-7,9-13,15-20, and 21-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Roth (US 6,285,987) and Kiely (US 2002/0077960) in view of Katz (US 2003/0130904).

Referring to claim 1. The combination of Roth, Kiely, and Katz discloses a method for providing a real-time marketing opportunity to third parties during a sales transaction between a customer and a seller for purchasing a product of the seller in a primary order, the real-time marketing opportunity being offered by the seller of the product, the method comprising:

- Establishing a communication connection between the seller and the third parties (Roth: abstract);
- Determining an occurrence of the sales transaction including the primary order for the product of the seller (Kiely: abstract);
- Issuing, by the seller during the occurrence of the sales transaction, an alert over the established connection to the third parties that the sales transaction is in progress (Kiely: abstract, figure 3, and paragraph 10) and a bidding process is open for soliciting bids on the real-time marketing opportunity (Roth: abstract).
- Establishing a time duration for the bidding process associated with the real-time marketing opportunity (Roth: column 7, lines 26 – 33);
- Receiving, by the seller during the occurrence of the sales transaction, one or more bids from one or more of the third parties for the real-time marketing opportunity (Kiely: abstract and paragraph 10 and Roth: abstract). The examiner notes that figure 3 and paragraph 50 of Kiely discloses brokering upsell opportunities during a sales transaction and Roth discloses accepting bids for the marketing opportunity.
- Determining a winning bid for the real-time marketing opportunity included in the bidding process based on the one or more bids raised (Roth: figure 2b).

- Including, by the seller during the occurrence of the sales transaction, the real-time marketing opportunity corresponding to the winning bid (Kiely: abstract and paragraph 10 and Roth: column 12, lines 28 – 40 and column 13, lines 16-24). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to have modified the method of Roth to have included issuing an alert to third parties from the seller during the sale transaction, as taught by Kiely, in order to provide means for direct marketing access to customers (Kiely: paragraphs 4 and 10).

The combination of Roth and Kiely discloses all of the above including providing an upsell offer "at or near" the completion of a transaction (Kiely: abstract) but does not expressly disclose a customer taking advantage of a real-time marketing opportunity as part of the primary order for the product. Katz discloses a method comprising a customer taking advantage of a real-time marketing opportunity as part of the primary order for the product of the seller (Katz: abstract). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to have modified the method of Roth and Kiely to have included an upsell offer as part of the primary offer, as taught by Katz, in order to "incentivise (with an upsell) the potential customer in real time" (Katz: paragraph 33).

- Completing the sales transaction between the seller and the customer for the product (Kiely: abstract).

Referring to claim 3. The combination of Roth, Kiely, and Katz further discloses a method wherein the one or more real-time marketing opportunities include an opportunity to provide an offer to be included in the transaction for the purchase of the product (Kiely: abstract). Roth teaches providing an advertisement but does not expressly disclose providing a peripheral, a promotion, a download, or an offer. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to have modified the method of Roth to have included providing an offer, as taught by Kiely, in order to provide upsell content to customers (Kiely: paragraphs 13 –15).

Referring to claims 5 –6. The combination of Roth, Kiely, and Katz further discloses a method, wherein the step of establishing a communication connection includes:

- Offering general information associated with the one or more real-time marketing opportunities on an Internet site (Roth: abstract) or via a telephone conversation (Kiely: paragraph 24) associated with the seller; and
- Allowing the third parties to establish a communication connection with the seller over the Internet site (Roth: abstract).

Referring to claims 7 and 9-12. Claims 7 and 9-12 are rejected under the same rationale set forth in the rejection of claims 1,3, and 5 - 6. The combination of Roth, Kiely, and Katz discloses apparatus comprising the components disclosed in claims 7 and 9-12.

Referring to claims 13 and 15-18. The combination of Roth, Kiely, and Katz discloses all of the limitations of the article of manufacture claims 13 and 15-18 as discussed above in the rejection of the similar method claims 1,3, and 5 - 6. The combination of Roth, Kiely, and Katz further discloses an article of manufacture permitting a customer to take advantage of marketing offers made during a sales transaction by responding and completing the sales transaction for both the product and offer (Kiely: abstract).

Referring to claim 19. Claim 19 is rejected under the same rationale set forth in the rejection of claim 1. The examiner notes that the marketing opportunity of claim 1 would inherently contain an offer.

Referring to claim 20. The combination of Roth, Kiely, and Katz further discloses a method wherein the real time marketing opportunity includes providing a download, and additionally comprising the step of offering the download to the customer during the occurrence of the sales transaction (Kiely: paragraph 31).

Referring to claim 21. The combination of Roth, Kiely, and Katz discloses a method for providing a marketing opportunity that includes a peripheral along with the sale transaction (Katz: paragraph 104).

Referring to claims 22-23. Claims 22-23 are rejected under the same rationale set forth in the rejection of claims 1 and 13.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to the above claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
